MIME-TYPES and the extensions that represent them
This file is part of the "mime-support" package.  Please send email (not a #   bug report) to mime-support@packages.debian.org if you would like new types
and/or extensions to be added.
The reason that all types are managed by the mime-support package instead #   allowing individual packages to install types in much the same way as they #   add entries in to the mailcap file is so these types can be referenced by #   other programs (such as a web server) even if the specific support package
for that type is not installed.
#
Users can add their own types if they wish by creating a ".mime.types" #   file in their home directory.  Definitions included there will take #   precedence over those listed here.
Note: Compression schemes like "gzip", "bzip", and "compress" are not #   actually "mime-types".  They are "encodings" and hence must _not_ have #   entries in this file to map their extensions.  The "mime-type" of an #   encoded file refers to the type of data that has been encoded, not the #   type of encoding.
